

The Sport and the Tradition: A Guide to Tut Books

Inside the stone coffin were two wooden coffins. Inside those was a third coffin made of solid gold where the mummified body of Tutankhamun lay, wearing a golden mask.

Carter and his team recorded, measured and preserved what they found. They had to be very careful not to damage the mummy, and worked very slowly. It took over 18 months from lifting the lid of the stone coffin to the moment they found the mummified body.
