Eligibility Categories

There are three main eligibility categories for employment-based Green Card self-petition:

1. EB-1: Extraordinary Ability and Outstanding Researchers/Professors
2. EB-2: Advanced Degree or Exceptional Ability
3. EB-3: Skilled Workers, Professionals, and Other Workers

EB-1: Extraordinary Ability and Outstanding Researchers/Professors

To qualify under the EB-1 category, applicants must demonstrate extraordinary ability in the sciences, arts, business, or athletics, or be an outstanding researcher or professor with international recognition.

EB-2: Advanced Degree or Exceptional Ability

Applicants under the EB-2 category must possess either an advanced degree (Master's or higher) in a relevant field or exceptional ability in the sciences, arts, or business.

EB-3: Skilled Workers, Professionals, and Other Workers

The EB-3 category is for individuals who are skilled workers, professionals, or other workers with at least two years of experience in their field.

Documentation Requirements

To support your self-petition, you will need to provide extensive documentation, including:

- Evidence of identity and legal status
- Educational and/or professional credentials

- Proof of experience
- Letters of recommendation
- Evidence of international recognition (for EB-1)

The Self-Petition Process

The self-petition process involves several steps:

1. Gather your documentation
2. Complete Form I-140
3. File your petition with USCIS
4. Await a decision

The USCIS will review your petition and make a decision on your eligibility for permanent residency.
